

Volunteer Photographers Role Description, Cumbria

About Cumbria Wildlife Trust

As one of 46 independent Wildlife Trusts, we are a local wildlife conservation charity. Cumbria Wildlife Trust cares passionately about wildlife, wild places and people – we're here to put wildlife back into our land and seascapes to make Cumbria a wilder county with more space for nature. We restore and connect wild places, work with nature to tackle the climate emergency and support people to take action for wildlife.

We wouldn't be able to do what we do without the dedication and support from our community of 700 active volunteers, and over 15,000 members and supporters.

What is a volunteer photographer?

We are looking for volunteers who can support the work of Cumbria Wildlife Trust by taking photos of the wonderful wildlife found at Cumbria Wildlife Trust's nature reserves.

The photos will be used across our publications, social media, website and to accompany press releases, as well as for other uses.

What's in it for you?

You'll help increase our audience reach with eye catching examples of wildlife.

This role will suit anyone interested in volunteering with Cumbria Wildlife Trust and who loves taking photographs of nature. It would especially suit those who:

- Enjoy working in an outdoor environment
- Have their own equipment and transport
- Are keen to explore new Trust sites in different seasons

Accessibility

Only Foulshaw Moss and South Walney reserves are wheelchair accessible.

Applications from under 16s are welcome.
